THE COVER LETTER

The cover letter is a short letter of introduction that you send out with your resume to prospective employers. You can write a cover letter asking about a co-op or full-time job after graduation. You should not send out a resume without a cover letter.

The purpose of a cover letter is to make your resume more personal and show how you are qualified for the job. Mention you are enclosing your resume with the letter. If you are sending it by e-mail, put the letter in the body of the e-mail, and say you are attaching your resume.

WHEN WRITING A COVER LETTER:

1. Find out as much as possible about the company and position that you want. Use resources in the NTID Learning Center, the Web, and the library.

2. Address the letter to the SPECIFIC PERSON responsible for hiring if possible. Be sure to use that person’s name and job title with correct spelling. If you do not have a name, substitute “Employment Manager.”

3. Be short and to the point, and use the correct business letter format for your letter.

4. Explain how your specific skills and accomplishments match the requirements of the position, and give information about your personal qualities you would bring to the job.

5. Remember to emphasize what you can offer the employer.

6. Follow up after sending the cover letter and resume to request an interview. Don’t wait for them to call you.
