

NTID 2018–2019 International Declaration of Finance Form

Note: The total cost for study at RIT/NTID for the 2018-2019 academic year is approximately $USD $46,000 and is adjusted on an annual basis. RIT/NTID will issue the I-20 or DS-2019 forms necessary to apply for a student VISA when the accepted student applicant demonstrates sufficient funds to cover costs of attendance, which may or may not include scholarships offered by RIT/NTID. There are also additional costs, beyond what is charged by RIT/NTID, such as transportation, housing for family members, and SEVIS fee. Please complete all sections on this form and provide supporting documents to report available funds, regardless of amount, and mail original copies to RIT/NTID. Applicants are considered for tuition-reduction scholarships based on financial need. There is also a limited number of full scholarships for applicants from developing countries through the Sasakawa-DeCaro Endowed Scholarship Fund. Contact NTID Admissions for scholarship information and refer to www.ntid.rit.edu/apply/international for application requirements and costs.
